

Summer is finally spreading across Europe and holiday destinations are gearing up for the annual influx of tourists. But are some gems being forgotten because travellers opt for the same old places year after year? For inspiration, we rounded up five of the best beach holidays and campsites. Meanwhile, we wondered what it is that makes a tourist visit the same hotel again and again. To find out, we interviewed the owner of one of Europe's top-rated hotels.

Check out the updates below for our latest stories from the industry.

INDUSTRY NEWS

FIVE OF THE BEST EUROPEAN BEACH HOLIDAYS

Tourists heading to Europe's beaches are surprisingly set in their ways, with the Greek islands and the south coast of Spain still topping leagues. In fact, there are hundreds of glorious beaches to choose from. Here are five of the best European beach holidays, to broaden horizons.

READ MORE

FIVE OF THE EUROPE'S BEST CAMPING SPOTS

Camping is endlessly popular, offering the chance to spend time in stunning locations at bargain prices. From the mountains of France's Haute-Savoie region to Spain's uninhabited Islas Cíes, we round up five campsites to while away a summer holiday.

READ MORE

SECRETS OF EUROPE'S MOST POPULAR HOTELS

What is it about certain hotels that makes tourists return again and again? Caserio Del Mirador, in Jalon, Spain, is one such hotel, with top rankings on both TripAdvisor and Mumsnet. We caught up with hotel owner Sarah Robinson, to find out what her secret is.

READ MORE

Stay connected to TOURISMlink on Facebook and Twitter for updates on the project, blogs from our team and the latest news from the world of online tourism.

FOLLOW US:

An initiative of the

